Disability Sheffield Centre for Independent Living Limited is a company limited by guarantee, registered in Cardiff No. 4639160 and is a registered Charity No. 1112712

This factsheet is one way we can highlight and provide you with access to information about physical activities that already exist in the city and keep you informed of new opportunities. You can also keep up to date by looking at news and events on our website and by signing up there to receive our free news bulletins. We've grouped our information under the following headings:-

Get Yourself Active

The project works with partners to uncover the experiences of disabled people and people with long term health conditions when we try and get active, including by using personal budgets.

Move More Sheffield

Encourages more physical activity in all age groups and abilities, in all parts of the city. Includes Disability Sport Sheffield and the Physical Activity Referral Scheme .

Support for a Healthier Lifestyle

Services to support you to make changes to your lifestyle Including activities to improve your health at your local community well being centre and support from Sheffield Health Trainers.

Sport Facilities and Concessions

Accessible sports facilities in the city including Everyone Active and Places for People.

Other Sport and Leisure Activities

Resources to find activities in the city - the Sheffield Directory and the Sheffield Mental Health Guide plus local organisations offering activities including our own inclusive cycling project in Hillsborough Park, Sheffield Cycling 4 All

National Websites and Resources

Links to a selection of national organisations that provide sport and leisure information, services and resources for disabled people

Get Yourself Active

The Get Yourself Active Project is about disabled people having better opportunities to take part in physical activity and sport.

Get Yourself Active (GYA) is a national project led by Disability Rights UK and funded by Sport England, which works to demonstrate that improved access to physical activity and sport for disabled people can improve quality of life.

Disability Sheffield was one of four Disabled People's User Led Organisations (DPULOs), working together to develop better opportunities for disabled people to be more physically active in the 'Get Yourself Active' project.

GYA works to make the conversation happen between disabled people, the sports sector, and the health and social sectors. Everyone involved in the Get yourself Active project wants you to have the choice, control and independence to get active in a way that's right for you. For some people this might be going rock climbing or joining a local football team, for others it might be joining a local gardening club!

The project is about improving your wellbeing and growing opportunities for people with lived experience of physical and sensory impairments, mental health issues, learning disabilities and health conditions to participate in physical activity and sport including by using personal budgets. Many disabled people want to be more independent and confident, to be part of the community or a team, to meet new people or to see their friends. You can achieve all of these outcomes and more through taking part in physical activity and sport. Check out their guides <http://getyourselfactive.org/all-guides/>

Being Active: An Everyday Guide

The English Federation of Disability Sport, in partnership with Disability Rights UK and Sport England have produced Being Active: An every day guide for people living with an impairment or health condition This comprehensive guide aims to answer four main questions; why should I get more active? How do I get more active? What should I do? and Where do I find out more?

We are proud that our Sheffield Cycling 4 All project in Hillsborough Park, is a popular initiative which has received national recognition, and shows the added value of improving wellbeing through taking up exercise.

You can find all the information you'll need about Cycling 4 All, and many other projects and activities throughout this factsheet.

If you need support to find activities call our Disability Information Service on (0114) 253 6750 or email info@disabilitysheffield.org.uk

Move More Sheffield

The Move More initiative is designed to encourage more physical activity in all age groups and abilities, in all parts of the city. It is supported by all major City partners including the voluntary sector, universities, NHS and Sheffield City Council, and the message is simple: move more and you'll feel better, look better, work better and play better. Information about the aims of Move More can be found here, including a video and the Move More Plan. The best way to get involved, and get active is to simply go to the Move More website where you can get started straight away. Find out about the various 'Ways to Get Active' projects, some of which are listed below, on this page <https://www.movemoresheffield.com/new-page>

Disability Sport Sheffield (formerly Within Reach)

This is the main Move More project for sport and physical activity for disabled people building on the work of Within Reach since 1989 to enable people of all ages with all types of disabilities to take part in sport and recreation opportunities in the city.

The Activity Disability Sports Network continues to produce a 'Within Reach' Sports and Physical Activity Brochure, which provides information on local sports clubs and leisure facilities in Sheffield available for disabled people in and around Sheffield.

You can download the brochure by following this link

<https://www.movemoresheffield.com/disabilitysportsheffield>

SPARS – Sheffield Physical Activity Referral Scheme

SPARS is another Move More partner, and is a scheme for people with long term health conditions who want to Move More. It's also for people who are simply inactive and at risk of a condition and require an extra helping hand and motivation to be more physically active. You can get professional advice about how to get started and providers can design the most suitable physical activity plan for you. (SPARS collects this information in confidence and only shares it with the providers selected as part of the process). You will need to create an account in order to login.

You can also find information about SPARS on Sheffield City Trust's website

<https://www.sheffieldcitytrust.org/fitness/exercise-referral>

We are Undefeatable

This campaign is a movement supporting people with a range of long term health conditions whose purpose is to support and encourage finding ways to be active that work with each person's conditions, not against them.

This Girl Can – Sheffield

This Girl Can Sheffield is a Move More partner for women and girls who want to know how, when and where they can get moving. The project aims to inspire more women and girls to get moving and to prove that the common barriers many women face such as judgement, body image and competency fears time, money and energy can be overcome. It celebrates women who are doing their thing no matter how they do it. <https://www.movemoreshffield.com/this-girl-can>

Support for a Healthier Lifestyle

The following advice on changing your lifestyle to improve your health was taken from the NHS Your Health, Your Choices website.

Keeping fit and healthy can be a challenge if you have a long-term condition, but it will make a big difference to your wellbeing. If you've been thinking about making changes to your lifestyle, such as stopping smoking, losing weight, eating healthily or doing more exercise, there's plenty of help and support available.

Talking to your GP and other healthcare workers, including pharmacists, is the first step. They'll be able to help you to look at your lifestyle and can suggest changes that are suitable for your condition and any treatment you're having. Your health or care worker can also let you know about local services that can help you.

It's important not to overdo exercise. Start slowly by doing a little at a time and build up at a steady pace that feels right for you. Tell the 'teacher' about your condition and make sure they know how to work safely if there are any particular risks. You don't need to take up running or aerobics to get fit and active. Find the right activity for you. It could be a more gentle exercise class such as yoga, T'ai Chi or Pilates.

Regular exercise can help ease your pain and make you feel happier. It can help you lose weight, and could help reduce the symptoms and flare-ups of many long-term conditions, including arthritis, asthma and heart disease.

Ask your GP about vaccinations that could help you stay healthy. People with long-term health conditions can sometimes be more vulnerable to infections such as flu and pneumonia.

For more details on a healthier lifestyle visit the NHS Live Well website or the new NHS Better Health , Healthier Families website and Get Active <https://www.nhs.uk/better-health/get-active/>

Yorkshire Smoke Free – Sheffield

People Keeping Well

This network of local organisations helps people to keep well in their community with activities to support people to improve their health, including eating healthily and exercising more perhaps with advice from a one-to-one Health Trainer.

A full list of community wellbeing providers can be found in the Drop Down Box under 'List of People Keeping well Organisations' on this page of the Sheffield Directory.

<https://www.sheffielddirectory.org.uk/adults/healthy-living/advice-pages/keeping-well-in-your-local-community/>

These include Zest, SOAR, Shipshape, Darnall Wellbeing and Manor and Castle Development Trust among others and all offer different services and activities.

You can also contact Sheffield City Council's Community Wellbeing Programme on 0114 293 0682

Sheffield Health Trainers

Health Trainers can offer one to one support around leading a healthy lifestyle. Health Trainers also support people with long term conditions, for example type 2 diabetes, or persistent pain. A Health Trainer will not tell you what to do, but will ask you what you want to do and how you want to do it.

Health Trainers can:

- Support, encourage and motivate you to change or lead a healthy lifestyle
- Support you to self-manage your long term conditions
- Offer advice and information on healthy eating and increasing physical activity
- Offer advice on losing weight and referral to stop smoking support
- Help you to work out exactly what you want to change and how to go about it
- Accompany you to first appointments (with other services)
- Identify groups or activities in your area
- Support you in setting your own health goals
- Signpost you to other services.

Health Trainers are understanding and supportive. They will help and encourage individuals to achieve and maintain a healthier lifestyle. The service is available in all Community Wellbeing (People Keeping well) areas.

National Websites and Resources for Physical Activity and Sports

Access for All: Opening Doors: A guide to support sports clubs to improve physical access for disabled people

“Access for all: Opening Doors” is a guide produced by the English Federation of Disability Sport (EFDS) which aims to break down one of the main barriers for people with a range of impairments-venue accessibility. The English Federation of Disability Sport and access experts Jean Hewitt Consulting Ltd have worked together to produce this user-friendly guide to ensure more disabled people can enjoy being active in more places.

Download Access for All: Opening Doors

The guide is aimed at anybody involved in running or working in a sports club. It is not a detailed technical guide, but intended as a starting point. The main areas of physical access are identified and readers are signposted to further information and support. As well as it making good business sense to be welcoming to a huge section of our population, there is also a legal duty to ensure sports clubs are accessible for disabled people to use. The Equality Act 2010 requires sports clubs and other providers to make reasonable adjustments to services so everyone has access, with no exemption for private clubs any more. A plain text Word version is available upon request.

The EFDS have produced 25 other guides similar to Access for All which focus on the sports available to specific disabilities and the charities which support them, all of which can be found on the EFDS Resources Page

AccessAble

Accessable (previously DisabledGo) is a website and directory which provides detailed access information to venues across the UK including sports facilities.
