About Disability Sheffield & Sheffield Travel Support Service

Disability Sheffield Centre for Independent Living is a 'not for profit' pan-impairment organisation driven by people who self-define as disabled people, whether they have a physical disability, a sensory impairment, a mental health condition or learning difficulties. We support disabled adults to make their voice heard, whether through individual advocacy services or through a range of projects seeking to ensure disabled people are at the heart of all decision making across Sheffield.

Sheffield Travel Support (STS) is a support service to people with learning disabilities as an alternative to taxis, council or public transport for people who may need more support or are nervous about traveling with strangers. Each week we provide a personalised service for around 140 people, using ordinary cars with regular named drivers. STS has been running since 2011 and in 2024 was transferred to become part of Disability Sheffield, who now oversee the scheme.

Main Purpose of the role

As a Travel Support Worker (TSW), your main role will be to accompany and support customers to get around Sheffield on their regular journeys or to social events, etc. Picking people up in the morning usually happens between 8.30am and 10.30am, taking them safely to day centres and workplaces. Return journeys tend to start at about 2:30pm and finish around 4.30pm. There is occasional work outside of these times and a small amount of evening and weekend work would be required.

This is a door-door, personalised service; you won't just pick up and drop passengers off, you'll accompany them in to wherever they're going to make sure they're safe, comfortable and accounted for. The emphasis is on providing the right amount of support to each passenger – perhaps a helping hand from home to the car, perhaps help with the seat belt for those who are limited physically. Some passengers are very talkative and some won't talk at all; some take a while to get to know you and others are ready to be best friends very quickly.

We will pay for your DBS check and we provide training on safeguarding and on moving and handling. We will give you 'need to know' information and advice on how best to support each person that you meet. You will soon build up your own rapport with people. We are not particularly looking for support workers with experience in this sort of work - you just need patience, a sense of fun and a readiness to show respect to every person that you support.

At present, all TSW's must own their own 5 door car which is suitable for the purpose of transporting customers when required. TSW's may also be required to support customers on public transport journeys. Most journey's will be in or around Sheffield, but TSW's may also occasionally be required to provide travel support right across South Yorkshire and into Derbyshire.

By default, all our posts are based at Disability Sheffield's office at The Circle, 33 Rockingham Lane, Sheffield S1 4FW. In practice, as a disabled people's user-led organisation, we are very flexible with working arrangements and all reasonable requests will be approved.

Due to the unique nature of the Travel Support Worker role, working time / location will be considered to be the first pick-up each day, and end upon the TSW's arrival back home.
